Academic Courses

The Center for Judaic & Middle Eastern Studies at UConn-Stamford offers and coordinates credit courses within the academic curriculum in the Humanities as well as non-credit outreach programs for the community at large in all areas of Judaic culture, literature, and history.

New and noteworthy for Spring 2015:

ENGL 3220 / HEJS 3401
Jewish American Literature and Culture
Dr. Nehama Aschkenasy
TUESDAYS, 2:35 PM - 5:15 PM

An interdisciplinary study of literary and artistic productions by and about Jews in the U.S. from arrival to the present, reflecting the Jewish experience and historical journey, from marginality to mainstream.

• With a special guest lecture by Dr. Eric Goldman, “Iconic American Filmmakers: The Jewish Contribution” on March 24, 2015. Goldman is an expert on Jewish film, adjunct professor of cinema at Yeshiva University, and recent co-host of the series “The Jewish Experience on Film” on the Turner Classic Movies network.

For a full listing of available courses, visit www.stamford.uconn.edu/registrar.

Courses begin January 20, 2015. Seniors wishing to audit a course can register beginning February 2, 2015 through the Office of the Registrar, on the 2nd floor at UConn-Stamford. Seats are limited.
